

Allathan Associates – Cookie Policy

Allathan Associates uses technology known as “cookies” to collect information about your use of www.allathanassociates.co.uk. (the “Website”) and to ensure we recognise you in order to improve your experience of using the Website. Cookies are small text files that your web browser places on the hard drive of your computer (or internet enabled device).

More about cookies on the Website

We use the following cookies on the Website:

- Strictly Necessary – these cookies are essential in order to enable you to move around the Website and use its features. Without these cookies, services you have asked for cannot be provided. They are deleted when you close your browser.
- Analytical/Performance - these cookies collect information about how visitors use the Website, for instance which pages visitors go to most often, and if they get error messages from web pages. These cookies don't collect information that identifies a visitor. All information these cookies collect is aggregated and therefore anonymous. It is only used to improve how the Website works

We do not seek to identify individual visitors unless they volunteer their contact details by completing any form on the Website, or by emailing us from the email links provided on the Website. By using our website you agree that we can place these types of cookies on your device.

Control of cookies

Most web browsers allow some control of most cookies through the browser settings. You can find out how to do this by clicking “help” on your browser menu. You should note that by blocking or deleting cookies certain parts of the Website may not function correctly. The following links provide details on how to manage cookies in each of the major web browsers

- Internet Explorer
- Firefox
- Chrome
- Opera
- Safari
- Safari for iPad and iPhone

To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit www.allaboutcookies.org. To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites visit <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>. The Website may link through to third party websites which may also use cookies. We have no control over such websites and you should check the terms of the relevant third party privacy or cookie policy for details of how cookies are used on such websites.

NB Cookies Not Used

•Functionality – these cookies allow the Website to remember choices you make (such as whether or not you are logged in to the Website). This allows us to personalise the content on the Website and remember your preferences. In addition we use session and persistent cookies. Session cookies enable you to move from page to page within the Website and any information you enter to be remembered. A session cookie will be deleted when you close your browser or a short time after that. Persistent cookies allow the Website to remember your preferences and settings when you visit the Website again. They expire after a set period of time.
